TILDEN and Mrs. HAYES.—Samuel J. Tilden is beginning to take a personal interest in the family which now occupies the White House. He walked down Broadway to Astor place on Monday, accompanied by two or three friends, and stopped at the Scribner publishing house. Two large, newly taken photographs of the President and Mrs. Hayes were exhibited in the Scribner windows. While his friends entered the store Mr. Tilden stood for a time scrutinizing the manly, open countenance of the President, and the bright, intelligent face of Mrs. Hayes. He did not look in an unkindly way upon the portrait of Mr. Hayes, but his especial interest seemed to be in the mistress of the White House. He seemed to be impressed by the thought that it required two to make of the Presidential mansion a true home—a fitting representative of the best elements of American civilization. Had the decision of the Electoral tribunal been different, there would have been a single, sad and solitary face in the window to show by whom the White House was tenanted, instead of the two who now present an illustrious example of wedded happiness. But these reflections did not appear to fill the Democratic candidate with bitterness or regret, for he called out his friends and led a lively conversation on the good fortune of President Hayes in possessing a wife so intelligent and attractive in appearance. A passer-by thought he overheard Mr. Tilden remark that election tribunals, while abounding in disappointment in the selection of Presidents, might possibly be of advantage in choosing a suitable helpmeet for a bachelor candidate.—N. Y. Tribune.

NEVER TOO LATE TO LEARN.—Among the regular pupils in one of the Springfield schools is a colored woman full sixty years old, who was dissatisfied with her attainments at the night school, which closed some weeks ago, and obtained permission to attend the ungraded school as long as she chose. "Aunt Lucy" was formerly a slave, but came North in the early part of the war. She has had three husbands and ten children. She stays out of school Mondays to do washing, but the remaining four days in the week she may be found with the children diligently studying. She has tried to induce some other old colored women to accompany her, but they all refuse for fear the children will laugh at them. Aunt Lucy, however, says "she don't care nuffin' 'bout dere laffin she's gwine to learn suthin'."

The editor of the Kansas Farmer states that he has taken all sorts of things in the way of subscriptions, and that now a man offers him an oval for six months of his paper. The editor says that if he can find any fellow who is out of owl, and needs some, he'll do it.

A LEGAL SCOUNDREL.—The name of William H. Gale was to-day stricken off the roll of attorneys and counselors, and his license annulled and cancelled by order of the Supreme Court of the State of New York. The offense of which Gale was proven guilty was most extraordinary. Mrs. Mary A. Megarge, wishing a divorce from her husband on the ground of incompatibility, secured Gale as her attorney. On an afternoon when on her way to Newark, New Jersey, she was joined at the ferry by Gale, who informed her that it was necessary that she should go to the Grand Union Hotel to see some person whom it was important for her to meet concerning the suit for divorce. She thereupon accompanied him to the hotel, arriving there near 6 o'clock in the afternoon, and was there detained by him through the evening in apartments consisting of a parlor and bedroom, under the pretense that he was expecting the appearance of the person he had mentioned. Her expressed desire to leave the hotel and return to her residence was opposed by Gale; and she was finally locked into the room by and with him, and retained there against her will and remonstrance through the night, he retiring and she sitting upon the lounge in the outer room until she was set at liberty in the morning. Gale had previously registered himself and companion as "James H. Baldwin and wife, Poughkeepsie, N. Y." This involved Mrs. Megarge in the appearance of criminal misconduct to such an extent as warranted the court in decreeing a divorce, as was done in an action afterward begun against her. Mrs. Megarge supposed the divorce had been obtained on the ground of incompatibility, and when she discovered that she had been adjudged guilty of adultery, she applied to the court and had the decree of divorce set aside on the ground of fraud on the part of her attorney. Gale is a nephew of Judge Fullerton, and very strong influence was brought to bear in his favor.—Chicago Tribune, 12th.

ABOUT BABIES.—Old ladies say that, if babies have strength to live seven days they will most likely live seven weeks, and if they live over seven weeks they will live seven months; and, unless something particularly bad happens them, they will reach the age of seven years, providing the seven months are safely got over. It is an old belief, that if a child cries loudly at its birth, and lifts up an open hand, it is born to command; but if it clutches with its thumb tucked in, it will be of a cringing, slavish disposition.

FRIDAY MARCH 23, 1877

Southern Commission.

A New York Times editorial of yesterday gives the following views in relation to the Southern problem:

"The conclusion reached yesterday by the President and his advisers in regard to the Southern question will call forth loud expressions of disappointment and disgust." The writer argues that the measure will not satisfy the Republicans, who demand the recognition of Chamberlain and Packard, nor the Democrats, who demand the withdrawal of the troops. The Commission implies a delay of which both parties are impatient. Chamberlain and Packard have a presumptive title that any man who acknowledges the title of Hayes to the Presidency cannot doubt. The Administration is bound to consider whether some arrangement is not feasible, whereby, in consideration of the abandonment of its claims by either party, both shall amicably accept the result of a change. This is the problem to be solved.

The New York Herald joins the same political cry and asks:

"Of what use, or authority, or force, or consequence is the Commission? One thing the President may depend upon. When he sends a commission to Louisiana he pleases every demagogue who hopes to keep the Southern question open for another four years, and he disappoints every man who wants to see the country back safe under the shelter of the Constitution."

The President is actuated by the purest of motives in sending a commission of high and honorable men to Louisiana and South Carolina to carefully inquire into the true status of affairs in those misrepresented States. Democrats and Republicans hold diametrically opposite views of affairs in these States, and the Chief Executive has no clear conception of the actual condition of the people or the strength and claim of the respective dual governments there existing. In South Carolina Hampton evidently has a just and acknowledged claim to the gubernatorial chair, and a majority of Republicans and Democrats admit this fact. The taxes are paid to his officials, and the State courts legalize his acts and admit that he is the lawful Governor of South Carolina. We can see no reason why U. S. troops should occupy the State House. Let them be withdrawn, and the South Carolina question is soon settled.

In Louisiana, however, the case is an entirely different one. Packard, according to the Returning Board, received a larger majority than Hayes. This complicates the question and makes it an awkward one for the President to deal with. There have been frauds committed and violence used in Louisiana. Both parties admit this, and further; that the late election held in that State was a very unsatisfactory one. Both parties have more than a color of right on their respective sides, and whichever way the question shall be decided, more or less injustice will be done. The political situation is a peculiar and complicated one; hence the President may well be cautious in the course he pursues in reference to Louisiana affairs. Therefore, we believe for the common good, it is well that all the light possible should be thrown on this question. A commission of the right men can find out which of the dual governments merits recognition, and thus relieve the President from a hasty and necessarily imperfect decision. Their report would also screen him from severe criticism, and place him where he could act with that decision and wisdom which would secure the respect of all parties.

To-Day.

This is the day set for the execution of John D. Lee at Beaver, Utah, for his participation in the Mountain Meadows massacre. An extract from Lee's confession is going the rounds of the press wherein he implicates Brigham Young and all of the high Church dignitaries in the crime, stating that he acted directly under their orders, and his action was endorsed by Brigham Young. There can be no doubt as to the truth of this charge, since it is known that Young's rule was absolute in his little monarchy. Had Lee presumed to act without orders his punishment would have been meted out long before this by Brigham himself. Lee should of course suffer for his atrocious crime, but what will they do with the arch murderer Brigham Young?

Wheat hay is $12 a ton in Oregon.

Hayes' Policy.

We had rather have a wise and able administration—One calculated to restore peace, harmony and prosperity to all sections of the Union, and to re-establish our good name among the nations of the earth—than the most successful partisan management of governmental affairs, whether it be Democratic or Republican.

To this end we were glad of the opportunity Mr. Hayes' inaugural address gave for earnest commendation. We thought and still think that in the utterances of that address he spoke his honest sentiments and purposes. He was then fresh from the people and was in sympathy with the popular sentiment on national questions, and undoubtedly meant to carry that sentiment into practical operation so far as possible, with the laudable purpose of winning the confidence and affection of the masses. It is true that he announced as his policy for the pacification and restoration of the South a line of action which had been steadily advocated by the Democratic party for years, and as steadily opposed by the party to which Mr. Hayes owes his accession to office. But that was only a stronger reason why we should approve it.—Virginia Chronicle.

The Chronicle says this, and then goes on to fear that Hayes will not be permitted to carry out his ideas. Why? Has he not dared everything in support of his declared sentiments? Has he not administered a scathing rebuke to the parasites of his own party, and met the malcontents more than half way? Then why do you fear. Is it not rather a wish. Do you not fear for Democratic identity in case this "honest" brave man shall succeed in his policy of good will, and capture your partisan strongholds with the forces of patriotism? Ay! there's the rub.

Protection of Timber.

Carl Schurz, the new Secretary of the Interior, is turning his attention to the better protection of the timber on the public lands of the United States. He will not hereafter leave this duty to the local land officers of the district, as has been done, but the Department will send out special agents to look after and prosecute depredators.—Ex.

This is one of the most important movements taken by the new administration. The timber lands of the United States are among her choicest possessions. When exhausted they cannot be replaced, and commerce must inevitably suffer. The process of destruction without any attempt at replacement has been going on for years, and sooner or later we will feel the result of such practices. In England the supply of fuel is already receiving much attention, and large parks and forests are being laid out through the aid of government. The time has come with her when economy is an absolute necessity, and it will come to us. We are prone to believe that the breadth of our territory renders exhaustion of these resources impossible, but the reasoning is fallacious. Schurz has inaugurated a good move and it is to be hoped that his efforts may be entirely successful.

TELEGRAPHIC.

The Cabinet have determined on sending a commission to the States of South Carolina and Louisiana. The members of this commission will be selected on account of their intelligence and patriotism rather than their political standing. The President is convinced that in Louisiana in particular the color line should be broken down, and that the State Government should maintain a more effective authority. Political matters there, in his judgment, need a thorough overhauling. Violence and murder must and will cease when harmony prevails and justice is impartially administered. The President regards Packard's claims as greatly improving. He further says: "The Freedmen will find me their friend, but they need other friends from among those who are now regarded as their enemies, because of the race line." The President has a strong feeling of charity for the South yet he says law and order shall prevail, and in no case shall the troops be withdrawn. A cote of statu quo will be maintained until the Commission return and reports and a fixed policy shall have been agreed upon.

A New York date of the 22d says: One hundred forged Pacific railroad bonds for $1000 each, were to have been put upon the market to-day by a gang of swindlers, two of whom were arrested yesterday. The bonds were captured on one Kilpatrick at the New York Hotel at 5 o'clock last night.

A Tribune New Orleans special says: The Senate had a quorum to-day. Not a solitary colored man now remains in the Nicholls Legislature. A large number of bills were passed and two Senators seated.

Anderson, Wells, Pitkin, Attorney-General Hunt and Judge Steele arrived from Washington to-day.

The Democrats are generally dissatisfied with the appointment of a commission to come here and investigate. The Democrats are greatly alarmed at Packard's movements and recruits which are gathering in the city and country.

St. Louis is a little excited over the Mayor candidacy. Overstolz is likely to get away with the office.

The N. Y. Times and Herald oppose the Commission to visit the Southern States.

Engineers will report a route for the Darien ship canal about the 1st of April.

Ex-Mayor Hall of New York is catching trout at the Islip South Side Sportsman's Club.

The Packard and Nicholls Legislatures have extended their sessions to the 30th of March.

POISONED.—The Sacramento Bee relates a poisoning incident in which one Theodore Klebs was a very much interested party as follows:

Bardo Pilovich and Theodore A. Klebs drank a glass of wine at the former's residence on Saturday evening, and in a few minutes both were attacked with violent pains in the stomach, showing conclusively that they had been poisoned. Proper antidotes were administered, and the lives of the parties saved. As the wine had been in the house for several days, and had been previously used freely and without any ill effects, it is thought that the base was introduced into the jug on Saturday by some malicious person with murderous intent.

Mr. Sutherland, a young man of considerable ability, formerly of the editorial staff of the Virginia Evening Chronicle, has taken his departure from the Comstock.—Ex.

We are sorry to lose Mr. Sutherland from the circle of Nevada's journalists. He is a young man, who brings zeal and ability to his work, and has, we believe, labored to do all things well. For many courtesies extended us while on the Chronicle staff, we return thanks and wish him success in other fields.

TO BE TRIED.—Says the Silver State of March 20th:

Deputy Sheriff Stafenburg of Elko county arrived here yesterday with Robert Crozier, indicted for the murder of "Montana Charley" in a bar room affray at Elko, about two months ago.

Montana Charley will be remembered as one of the artists who illustrated self defense in boxing gloves before our citizens last winter.

The editor of the San Francisco Mail and the Virginia Enterprise are indulging in a journalistic warfare. It is fun for the reading public, but death to the quill drivers.

Tie their tails together and hang 'em over the clothes-line.

A SINGULAR DISCOVERY.—Eureka Sentinel: Some days since while George Bliss, Superintendent of the Water Works, was digging a trench on Spring street, he struck a stratum of earth completely filled in with a variety of shells ranging from the minutest particle to those of the size of a pea. Some of the shells strongly resemble those of the clam. The question now is, how and when the shells got there. Specimens will be forwarded to Professor Frank Stewart.

SAFETY ENVELOPES.—To prevent tampering with letters while passing through the mails, a safety envelope has been invented. On the flap of the new envelope the words "Attempt to open" are printed with a double set of chemicals, the first impression containing nutgalls and the second green vitriol. If the flap be steamed or moistened in any way the magic printing will appear to betray the attempt to open.

During the hard times several Boston girls have decided to accept honest housework. Said one of them to a Newark lady the other evening, "Madam, I shall be obliged to you if you will be so good as to bring down the atlas, so that I may trace the war in the East; and, if you please, where is the telephone?" They telephoned story about this.

A "cultured pussen," in an oration the other night, made frequent use of the expression "egg-noggeration of Gagner Hayes." His effort was loudly applauded by his dusky associates.

GARDEN PLANTS.—A fine collection of flowering plants and shrubbery are now offered to the public by Mr. F. Kuntz, late florist and nurseryman at Union Nursery, Sacramento. He has a large stock on hand at his room on Virginia street, opposite Jno. Sutherland's boot and shoe store. He offers these rare plants to the citizens until next Saturday, when he will sell the remainder at public auction. Avail yourself of a rare opportunity to purchase a number of choice and beautiful garden and yard plants with which to ornament your home.

WE TAKE PLEASURE IN ANNOUNCING TO THE LADIES OF

Reno and vicinity that we have now received our Entire Spring Stock, which will be found upon examination to be most complete in every department, having been selected with the greatest care and taste. We can safely assert, without fear of contradiction, that Ladies can now make their purchases at our Establishment cheaper than the same goods can be purchased from any San Francisco house. Our stock is so varied and extensive that it would be useless to attempt to enumerate it, therefore we cordially invite the Ladies to call and examine our Vast and Most Elegant Assortment of Goods, being assured that at all times they will receive our most courteous and polite attention whether purchasing or otherwise.

Very Respectfully,

GREY & ISAACS.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Opium Smoking.

An Unfortunate Victim—Can't do without it—A Warning!

Those who are addicted to the use of opium, or have tampered with it in any way, will do well to reflect upon the following communication received by one of our prominent physicians:

March 22d, 77.
Mr. —: I have been in the habit of takin' Opium for the last ten years, and can not do without it. I am obliged to hev it; please send it to me, for God's sake send it to me to the State line. Mrs. —.

We omit the name for obvious reasons, but publish the communication for the practical moral contained in its letter and spirit. Here is a poor unfortunate, who probably made a trial of the drug through curiosity and heedlessly fell into its power and is now a helpless slave.

We have before spoken of the noxious dens in Chinatown where the heathen makes a handsome profit by enslaving his white brother to this terrible habit. We know that men and women have regularly visited these places, and doubt not that they do so still. The law prohibiting the sale is now in force, and we counsel our officers to keep a watchful eye on the Chinese quarter. This baneful traffic should be stopped and its miserable victims protected against themselves. This is the spirit of the law, and in the same spirit it should be carried out.

TRANSPORTATION COMPANY.—Articles of incorporation for "The California Fruit and Meat Shipping Company" have been perfected in San Francisco. The capital stock is $500,000, of which $200,000 has already been subscribed. The company will ship fruits and dressed meats directly from producer to consumer, and the field of operation is practically unlimited. Mr. J. Earle, who visited Reno some time since, speaks of this place as one of the largest shipping points, and our farmers and stock men should give wholesome aid and encouragement to the movement. Articles may be shipped in this way through incredible distances, and at an advantage to both producer and consumer.

SAD.—A gentleman took passage at Truckee on the east bound overland train last night. He had evidently taken on board a small cargo of malt, and when he reached Reno was too snugly in the embrace of Morpheus, and too much under the conquering influence of beer, etc., to allow his slumbers to be disturbed, so on he rode to Wadsworth, oblivious of where he was. This morning he came back to Reno, and now he gazes upon the beauties of our town while important business is neglected in Virginia City.

FLOURING MILL.—Mr. David Bole, who arrived from the West lately, and has been in charge of the Nevada State Flouring Mills for some time, informs us that the mill will start up some time the coming week. Considerable repairs have been made in the machinery and water course, which necessitated delay. The mill will be running soon, however, with a capacity of 50 barrels of flour per day. We are glad to know that the mill is again to furnish a local market for grain.

For a genuine imported Havana Cigar go to E. Meyer in J. E. Jones & Co.'s old Bank.

RIVERSIDE.—The Riverside soiree will be given this evening in I. B. Marshall's large new cellar. This party will be the last one given by the Riverside this season. Dancing will commence at 8 o'clock. Music furnished by Church & Jones. A number of home and abroad invitations have been issued by the committee, and a large attendance is expected. The hall is 35x60.

E. Meyer makes a specialty of Bit Cigars. Those who have tried them smoke them again.

VACATION.—The Episcopal Seminary will close May 15th for a long vacation. The next term will begin in August. The students will enjoy "Home sweet Home," while the teachers obtain a needed rest, and rusticate in the flower gardens of California.

None but the best brands of Smoking and Chewing Tobacco kept at E. Meyer's New Cigar Store.

Consolidated Poe.

Secretary and Superintendent's reports—Full exposition of the Company's affairs—New Board of Trustees.

The annual meeting of stockholders in Consolidated Poe Mining Company took place to-day. 75,385 were represented in the meeting. The following report upon the Company's finances was received and filed.

By this report the Total Liabilities are $51,656 73. Total assets, not including mines and mill site, $46,150. Total expenses for the year ending March 1st 1877, 76,716 91. Net bullion during year $11,299 48.

In regard to the mine's condition the Gazette has posted its readers, at times, in regard to the work done. Supt Griffin's report reads as follows:

To the stockholders of the Consolidated Poe Mining Company:

I herewith submit my report from July 17, 1876, to March 1, 1877:

No regular working of the company's mine, except keeping them pumped, watching, securing the works underground, and general preservation of the property, was done until the 18th of Sept., on which date work was commenced on the Paymaster mine, extracting ore for the purpose of making a run to test the practicability of working the ore by the new leaching process. Also in repairing and sinking the main incline with a view of sinking to a greater depth. The ore which was taken from the ground was very expensive to work and would have to be abandoned if allowed to remain long in the condition it was in. The incline, which is now finished to the one hundred and fifty foot level, was in very bad condition for a distance of eighty feet, on account of the ground being worked around it, and had to be retimbered and the grade changed, which was expensive work. It is now in perfect condition from the surface to the lower level.

For the amount of work done on the 100 and 150 foot levels, I will refer you to the quarterly reports on file.

The labor account amounts to $12,327 47, which includes all work about the company's mines and mills, construction and repairs.

The leaching process for working the company's ore was tried under many difficulties, and although the result of bullion was very far from being satisfactory, the failure to produce a fair percentage of bullion was not the fault of the process or of Mr. E. B. Smith, under whose supervision it was worked. I am of the opinion that with proper apparatus it will work the ores successfully.

There was raised, milled and worked, 110 tons of ore, the battery assay of which was $126 06 per ton.

A satisfactory settlement having been made with the creditors, work can be prosecuted and expenses reduced, the probable results of which are very encouraging to the stockholders.

Respectfully Submitted.

A. D. GRIFFIN,
Supt. Con. Poe M. Co.

The Company then went into an election and named the following Board of Trustees to serve for the ensuing year: J. S. Shoemaker, H. Ruhe, G. W. Cunningham, M. Lippman, and A. D. Griffin. An expert will examine the mine on Sunday next, and work will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible and with the least expense.

BILLIARD PARLORS.—Jim Chambers has fitted up his old saloon on Virginia street in the most comfortable manner and has now added one more pleasant resort for our citizens. The billiard room is separated from the bar, the tables have been repaired and remodeled, and everything made ship-shape. Chambers is one of Reno's old stand-by's and will, no doubt, be visited by his old friends and a host of new ones.

HEALTHY.—We notice that a great quantity of trees and shrubs are being planted in and about Reno, and regard it as a most healthy sign. Nothing will add so much value to your property as fruit, shade and ornamental plants. Chapin, the well-known nurseryman, has been obliged to double his orders to meet demands. Call on him in time.

HIS FIRST OFFENSE.—Alexander Dagney, the chap who gave Barlow a lively chase yesterday, was fined $50 which he paid without a murmur.

FURNITURE.—We advertise a choice lot of household goods today at a bargain. Particulars at this office.

A position wanted by a lady to do general housework, cooking or chamber work. Good references given if necessary. Apply at once at Mrs. Beck's, 1st door east of the Hotel House.

GONE.—We parted with an old friend of the Gazette office to-day; but he grew disgusted; the large power press ran him into the corner, and this afternoon he started out of the office, scratched the stair steps, made the office force puff, and in shaking hands at the farewell parting, left a little of his grease, ink and dust on each one's hand. Our Washington hand press takes passage for the Tuscarora Mining District.

DITCH CO.—The yearly work of repairing the North Truckee Ditch has been commenced under W. A. Morrison, Superintendent. The work will be pushed rapidly, and in a few days the ditch will again carry all the water needed for irrigation purposes on the North Side.

AT THE OLD STAND.—Pat Keliher has sold the Branch Saddle Rock and returned to the Saddle Rock original, next to the International hotel. This change has been made solely because Pat found himself unable to tend to both places with sufficient care. He prides himself upon his close attention to business and the large number of patrons which he has gained thereby. He now asks a continuance of past favors at the Saddle Rock and promises to deserve them more than ever. Old patrons only need to know the location while new comers are referred to the Saddle Rock for trial. Any man who is not satisfied will go free of charge. Pat points with pride to the number of fat men now roaming our streets, and confesses that his famous Eastern oysters and made dinners have done the work. Call at the Saddle Rock and you may be assured of good treatment and the best which the market affords.

SUPERIOR IRON HARROW.—I have a harrow, which I offer to the public, which I think excels anything in the harrow line I have ever seen. It is made entire of the best Norway wrought iron, except the points of the teeth, which are tipped with four inches of the best steel. My harrow will cover grain or grass seed, being made to run deep into the ground or pass lightly over it. Another superiority which I claim for it is, that it has no dead motion like wooden harrows; when passing over the ground it has a swinging motion, which very much increases its efficiency. On the upper side are two bows or runners on which the harrow may glide smoothly along when it is being removed from one field to another. Any size desired promptly made to order.

A WAIL FROM NASBY.—Nasby and the Confederate X Roads are in mourning over the result of the Presidential count. The following is an extract from Nasby's latest:

We stand over the carcass of reform and weep; me and Morrissey, and Cronin, and Wood; and our tears drain our systems.

The Democratic camp is damp with tears, and we have not the wherewithal to replace the moiester that goes from us.

Tilden disposes of purity in government, and will go back to railroad wrecking.

Morrissey sez the government may keep on bein corrupt for all he keers, and he will go back to his fero banks.

Field sez ther ain't no hope of purifyin the government, and he will go back to defendin thieves.

I wood hev saved the country, but ez the country didn't want to be saved it may be tothered.

So Nasby is going to start a whisky shop in the Sixth Ward, New York.

At a recent Methodist revival at Trenton, Missouri, a brother who had just been admitted to the fold on probation, was called upon to tell his experience. He arose with alacrity and held his audience spell-bound with the following harangue: "I'm a butcher and keep one of the toniest shops in Trenton. I always keep good meat, and if any of the brothers come to my shop, I'll do the fair thing with them. You don't often see butchers who are Christians. I want to do all I can for the Lord; and if there are any poor persons who can't afford to buy meat, I'll give 'em a whole beef."

BY VIRTUE of an interlocutory decree and judgment rendered April 16th, 1877, by the District Court of the Second Judicial District of the State of Nevada, held in and for the county of Washoe, and now affirmed by the Supreme Court of said State, and by virtue of a certified copy of said decree to me delivered on the 13th day of March, A. D. 1877, and under and by virtue of a deed to me executed and delivered, of the premises hereinafter described, by the several parties to said decree;

whereas B. F. Rhodes is plaintiff and James

A. Williams and Maria Williams, his wife, are defendants, and by which said decree the Sheriff of Washoe county is made a Receiver, and directed, as Sheriff and Receiver, to sell at public auction in view of the premises, or cash, such premises, by absolute sale without redemption and on payment of the purchase money to me to execute an absolute deed of said premises to such purchaser or purchasers thereof; and place such purchaser or purchasers in immediate possession of said premises, and remove all persons therefrom claiming said premises under any of the parties to said deed; and since the 30th day of December, A.

D. 1873, when notice of the pendency of this action was filed in the office of the County

Recorder in Washoe county, said State, I have levied upon said premises described in said decree, and now, therefore:

Notice is hereby given that on the SEV-ENTH DAY OF APRIL, A. D. 1877, at 10 o'clock in front of the said premises and westerly thereof, in the town of Reno, county of hours of 9 o'clock in the forenoon and 5 o'clock in the afternoon, viz: at 10 o'clock in the afternoon of said day of April, A. D. 1877,

I will sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder for cash, in accordance with said decree, all that certain piece or parcel of land situate in the town of Reno, county of Washoe, and State of Nevada, together with the tenements hereditaments and appurtenances thereof known and described on the map and survey of the town of Reno, county of Washoe and State of Nevada, as the north half of lot 4 (Four) and all of lot 5 (Five) in Block N, in said town of Reno, as survey and plotted on the map of said town as laid out for Charles Crocker in 1868, and on the payment of the purchase price thereof by the purchaser or purchasers thereof, I, as Sheriff of Washoe county and as Receiver appointed by said decree and as grantee of the premises by deed from all the parties to said suit, will make, acknowledge and deliver to such purchaser or purchasers, a good and sufficient deed of said premises, conveying all the interest and estate of the copartnership of Williams and Rhodes therein, as also of said defendants
